Delia Man Killed Near Rockyford

Wm. Radley Meets Death when Car Overturns, Driven by W. J. Curran, Cragsville.

An unfortunate accident occurred last Wednesday night on the main road, one mile south of Rockyford, when William Radley, of Delia, was killed by a car driven by W. J. Curran, proprietor of the Empire Hotel, Cragsville, but his life was being in the car skidding at a sharp bend in the road and overturning, throwing out the occupants.

The car was owned and driven by Mr. Curran, who had returned up to Calgary on business. Radley had just been to Calgary on business, but had gone to train in the morning time meeting Curran, and the two were returning home together.

The driver of the car accepted serious injury, when the accident happened, but Radley was thrown out with such force that he sustained a broken neck, and died instantly.

Immediately following the accident, Constable Moriarty of Cragsville arrived on the scene and took the driver of the car into custody on the arrival of Sgt. Nelson from Drumheller, and Officer De G. M. Gibson.

A charge of inquest held at Cragsville last Thursday afternoon, a charge of manslaughter was laid against the driver of the car, Mr. W. J. Curran, of Cragsville, and accused was released on bail, to come up for preliminary hearing at Cragsville this week.

Induction Service at Munson

Six ministers of the various denominations were present at the induction service at Munson Tuesday evening.

Rev. H. S. Mowbray, formerly of Youngstown, accepted the call and has been conducting the service on the Munson field since April 1st, and the family did not move until the 15th of last week. Rev. H. D. Litch of Drumheller had charge of the induction. Rev. H. C. Woods, of Oyen, gave the charge to the minister, and Rev. F. E. Kemp, of Ramsey, addressed the congregation. Rev. J. V. Hovey, the former pastor was made to his present but Mrs. Hovey was there and assisted her. After the formal service was over, lunch was served to the ministers and a number of the guests were called upon for short addresses.

Words of appreciation were expressed of the work of the retiring and incoming ministers. The people of Munson have a record of loyal and enthusiastic support of their ministers which has earned a proud and effective ministry, and give promise of good things to come.

Rev. Mr. Litch made a gratifying announcement. Hanna property raised 110 per cent. of the allocation for the maintenance and missionary fund, and ranks third among the parishes of the Diocese of Canada, for the year 1928.

Cards of Thanks

Mr and Mrs W. J. Arnold wish to thank the Methodist and Baptist churches for the beautiful flowers they sent them.

We wish to thank the Women's Auxiliary League for the beautiful flowers sent during our recent loss.

Chester White Hogs Proved Poor Investment

Of interest in connection with the selling campaign carried on in a number of districts by the Central United States Swine Co., an American corporation, promoting the sale of Chester White Hogs, is an article recently published in the Chicago "Drovers' Journal" which will reveal that the Alberta Department of Agriculture issued a warning to farmers in the province at that time as to the position of the company and the possibility of difficulty in enforcing the terms of the contract which they were asked to sign.

The present position of the company is indicated in the following dispatch, referred to above: "Spokane, Wash., March 19.—The status of the broad sow market in the United States will be secured by a committee of attorneys selected by 150 creditors of the Central U. S. Swine Co., who met at the Spokane hotel to determine how the affairs of the company can be worked out to the advantage of creditors.

Discussion among creditors from Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and British Columbia showed that the concern which recently, it is said, had trouble in operating in the Dakotas, had an unusual notion proposed as a means of liquidating the company with this view.

The discussion were said that the company would sell a pair of broad sows for $55 and take her sow pig at 100 lbs. at $55 each. It was disclosed that many persons had taken the bait. After the company declared that as the business expanded and the company accepted notes, their assets became "frozen" and that they did not have enough money to carry out their contracts. Whether the sow market has been entered was not brought out.

Attorneys were told that there is $100,000 in notes, which may be made the creditors something. When the creditors were unable to get any authentic information, they requested the committee of attorneys to determine if a receiver should be asked."

Professor Burgess Named Consulting Architect

Professor Cecil S. Burgess, of the University of Alberta, has been appointed consulting architect to the provincial government. He is an honored by Hon. O. J. McPherson, Minister of Public Works. Under the new arrangement Mr. Burgess will be available at all times to consult in the designing and preparation of plans for, and the construction of all government buildings.

Neighbors Seed A. F. Deans and A. P. Jespersen's Crops

On Tuesday the neighbors and friends of Arthur P. Deans and A. P. Jespersen turned out to seed, and with tractors and grain drills, and with the help of the neighbors, they were able to seed their crops for the season. The crops are now in the ground and the neighbors are now waiting for the harvest.

As everyone already knows, Mr. Deans had been laid up for some time, and he was unable to do the work himself. He was still in bed, and he was unable to do the work himself. TREE FRUITS

APPLES—The Alberta Changeling is hardy in almost all situations. Try a few of them. They make beautiful ornamental trees and the fruit will make jelly.

Many of the hybrids from this cross are also hardy enough to grow in the open. Try Osnaburg and Columbia. These are exceptional about the color in diameter. In sheltered situations try Transcendent and Hybrid, the yellow and red making beautiful displays. Another very hardy hybrid is the ornamental tree with yellow fruit. Try a few of these. They are a deep red, making one of the most handsome trees known, and the fruit will make jelly.

PEARS—No cultivated pear has been found in the province. Try a few of these. They are a deep red, making one of the most handsome trees known, and the fruit will make jelly.

WALNUTS—No cultivated walnut has been found in the province. Try a few of these. They are a deep red, making one of the most handsome trees known, and the fruit will make jelly.

THE MONTH OF MAY

Now comes, May, one of the prettiest and most valuable months of the year. Winter has gone, the golden showers of April are past, the look of summer has not yet come, and the vegetation is just beginning to spread with lavish hand its beauty all about us.

The origin of the names of most months are easy to trace. Not so May. It is generally agreed that because it was held sacred to the goddess of agriculture, her then is also a theory that May is the abbreviated form of Majores and that the month was so called because it was held sacred to the goddess, as June was dedicated to Juno, or Juno's month.

year. It always has had 31 days. The month of May is the lawfulness, and its given the month.

Since the beginning of the first of May has been marked by outdoor festivals, children have danced about as many a hundred of years.

Today many schools have May-day festivals, which give costumes, pretty flowers and dancing complete a most colorful picture. May is marked by few important historical events, but it is devoted to other months, and few holidays.

FREE PUBLICITY

This paper, like other newspapers the world over, is repaid in the victim of a cruel attack at the expense of some sinister plot for the introduction of various schemes for private gain or the mauling of public opinion toward "putting over" some sinister plot.

Some bureau or syndicate or manufacturer or politician will use a happy idea, and some clever fellow will tell him just how he can work the newspapers for the "stuff" needed; whereupon the expert is engaged or the advice is taken without the aid of the expert. He makes good at getting the stuff out—then publishers are too keen to allow the grafting gang to take the money.

Invitably, when the scheme is found out in time and the matter is refused, a threat is hurled at the victim: "The story will be given to another paper."

The plot works occasionally, but not always.

In the long run, the scheme usually loses out, because never again can the paper be approached in the same way by the same scheme.

The fact must be considered, also, that unless correspondents can be depended upon to furnish their local paper with real news stories they cannot expect to get away with spurious attempts to put a wrong propaganda. Editors are hard men to fool.

READY FOR SCHOOL?

It may appear as if the article had been given by mistake, as May data for publication instead of one in September. Just now, most people are ready to start the school of the summer, on promotions and summer vacations. It is however, time for thought, particularly concerning the children who will be starting to attend school for the first time this autumn.

Whenever and wherever a group of children are associated upon entering school, quite a high percentage of them are found to require medical care. They are not ill, but they have what are generally called "defects." These defects may be dental or tonsil, adenoids or some similar condition. Such defects do not make the child ill in the ordinary sense of the word. They are, however, a serious handicap to the child; they constitute an additional burden which drags the child's reserve.

No parent would deliberately do anything to interfere with his child's physical development, yet the parent who does not have his child's defects treated is not allowing the child a fair chance.

Now is the time to have the child who has defects examined, and, if he is found to have defects, to have them treated. By having this done now, the child will have the best chance of building up his health, so that he may start school this fall properly prepared to secure the greatest benefit from his school attendance.

We have stated that defects do not cause the child to be ill. This does not mean that defects are not a serious enemy; they are. The damage done by defects is not, as a rule, seen until adult life. A large percentage of the cases of heart disease and other diseases of middle life are due to neglect of dental teeth, tonsils and other such parts which have no infection in life, is living germ.

The early proper treatment of defects is our chief hope of decreasing those diseases which now take a heavy toll at middle age.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.
